

Article Overview

Several manufacturers specialize in non-standard or custom distribution boxes, offering tailored solutions for industrial and commercial applications.

Global Manufacturers

- o Zibo Hanchei Chemical Equipment Co., Ltd. - A Chinese industrial company providing custom electrical enclosures and distribution boxes. They offer OEM services, metal cabinets, and have extensive experience serving international markets including Russia, UAE, USA, and Australia. Their products are designed for reliability, practical function, and competitive pricing .
- o Raiseway - A Chinese supplier focused on non-standard distribution boxes, offering high-quality custom solutions for industrial applications. They provide both manufacturing and wholesale services, catering to specialized requirements .

U.S.-Based Manufacturers

- o EoBox Enclosures - With over 35 years of experience, EoBox manufactures UL-rated electrical enclosures and specializes in custom, non-standard sizes, colors, and applications. They maintain a large inventory of finished goods and offer rapid lead times, often shipping small orders within two days. Their services include both small-scale and large-scale projects, with a focus on speed, flexibility, and customer satisfaction .

Key Considerations When Choosing a Manufacturer

- o Customization Capabilities - Ensure the manufacturer can accommodate unique dimensions, materials (metal, plastic, ABS, PC), and functional requirements such as modularity or DIN rail compatibility .
- o Certifications and Safety - Look for UL, CE, or other relevant certifications, especially for industrial or hazardous environments .
- o Lead Times and Inventory - Some manufacturers, like EoBox, offer rapid turnaround and consigned inventory in multiple locations, which is critical for urgent projects .
- o Global Shipping and Support - Companies like Zibo Hanchei have experience exporting worldwide and providing after-sales support, which is important for international projects .

Additional Options

For specialized applications, consider manufacturers that provide modular, weatherproof, or explosion-proof enclosures, as these features can enhance safety and durability in extreme environments .
